SENATE FIGHT OVER TREATY NEAR CLIMAX
Wilson Forces Plan to Contest All Changes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—Developments today indicated that the struggle between the president and the majority of the senate over the league of nations covenant is coming to a head.

Mr. Wilson began to take stock of the feasible means of procuring early ratification of the peace treaty by summoning his senate spokesman, Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, to the White House for a conference on strategy.

At the conclusion of the conference it was announced that the administration will concentrate its effort on the defeat of actual amendments, changing provisions of the treaty and requiring a reopening of the peace conference.

Amendments to Be Fought.

The proposed amendments against which the president will center his fight are:

Revision of the Shantung settlement so as to transfer Shantung directly to China instead of to Japan.

Equalization of the votes of the United States and Great Britain in the league of nations, the present provision giving America one vote and Great Britain six.

The president decided to meet the question of reservations protecting rights and interests of the United States after the matter of textual amendments has been disposed of. In some quarters this was regarded as the first sign of weakening on the part of the president in his demand for ratification of the treaty without the slightest reservation. Mr. Wilson still insists, however, that even interpretive reservations be defeated.

Public to Learn All.

The conference between the president and the foreign relations committee of the senate at the White House last Tuesday is likely to be the turning point of the fight. If the president makes an able defense of his work at Paris, the prospect of a compromise on mild reservations will be enhanced. If the president's defense proves weak, the forces advocating amendments and strong reservations will be greatly strengthened.

The public will be given a chance to learn all the details of the White House meeting. In a letter to Senator Lodge made public today Mr. Wilson said that the committee might have "a full and trustworthy record of what is said," and suggested that the committee also have a stenographer present. The official transcript will be made public.

Regards Changes as Peril.

President Wilson, according to Senator Hitchcock, regards the proposed textual amendments as a grave menace to the peace treaty. He takes the position that they would compel the United States to draft an entirely new treaty and go back to Germany, "hat in hand," to ask its acceptance.

"If that becomes necessary," the president said, according to Senator Hitchcock, "I will send Senator Lodge and Senator Knox to Berlin to conduct the negotiations."

Before he went to the White House Senator Hitchcock conferred with Senator McNary of Oregon, Republican, one of the "mild reservationists" group. Senator McNary told the Nebraska senator that the group now numbered between twenty and twenty-five senators. They favor mild reservations, but no amendments. Administration leaders feel confident that when it comes to voting on amendments the "mild reservationists" will line up on the Democratic side. Senator McNary stated, however, that ratification without reservations was out of the question.

Lodge Issues Ultimatum.

When Senator Lodge heard Senator McNary had informed Senator Hitchcock that from twenty to twenty-five Republican senators stood ready to support mild reservations, he promptly issued an ultimatum.

"If the 'mild reservationists' come out with the Democrats and force the adoption of their program they will be regarded as traitors," he said.

WOMAN SAVES MISSING CHILD; HER STORY TOLD
Staffka Averages on the Way to Her Home, Unharmed.

[By a Special Correspondent.]
Omaha, Neb., Aug. 15.—Staffka Averages, the 12 year old Chicago girl who disappeared from her home, 1143 South Western avenue, in that city, is on her way back to her mother, unharmed. She left Omaha on a late train tonight and will arrive in Chicago before dusk tomorrow.

Before she left she told in an innocent, childlike way, the story of how Mrs. Tom Dunos, the wife of a Greek rooming house keeper here, had saved her from Andrew Frekas, the man who had taken her away from home. Staffka herself did not realize the extent of the woman's services to her. She referred to them only incidentally as she told her entire story to Matron Gibbons at the Omaha police station, where she had been taken after being found in the Dunos rooming house.

How Woman Saved Her.

"Andrew wanted to come into my room, but the lady there wouldn't let him do it."

"Every time Andrew would come the lady there at the boarding house would make him go away," were the two sentences in which she told a part of the story which seemed unimportant to her.

What she placed real stress upon was the fact that she was returning to her home.

"And I'm going to see my mamma and Chicago again, although Andrew said I shouldn't do either," was her parting greeting, as she shook hands with all the policemen and with Matron Gibbons just before she left the police station.

The police tonight are looking for Frekas not only here but in nearby cities. He is known to them by the name of Cheufres, the one he gave when he registered for the draft and claimed exemption as a Greek alien.

At that time he was working for the Rock Island railroad.

The police accompany Staffka to the train after her arrival here. That part of it that relates to her being protected from Frekas was positively confirmed.

"Andrew had been boarding at our house for about a month," began Staffka. "He wanted to take me to Lincoln park, he told my mamma. He said there was a picnic and that he had a friend out there who had a wife and two little babies he wanted me to see. He said we would stay at that man's house that night and he would bring me back in the morning."

Mother Lets Her Go.

"If you will promise to bring her back the next morning she can go," my mamma said.

"You can spit in my face if I don't," he told her. Then we started for the street car.

"Andrew said it made him sick to ride on a car and said we would go on the train. I thought it would be a nice one, so we went to a station and he got the tickets. He

"ANGEL" STARS QUIT; "MABEL'S ROOM" TIED UP
Ed Nockels Appears as New Villain in Stage Strike.

CASUALTIES IN THE "CASTS."
COLONIAL—Ada Meade and Ann Warrington "strike."

WOODS—Curtain held thirty-five minutes during strike strike.

PALACE—Howard Bros. ignore call. Reason, $1,000 weekly salary.

The cast hesitated about venturing "Up in Mabel's Room" at the Woods last night. It (the cast) was so fascinated with oral labor and strike treaties as delivered in the adjacent alley that the impatient and perspiring audience waited thirty-five minutes for the tardy curtain to denote a display of Mabel's lingerie.

A similar near strike at the Colonial subtracted Ada Meade and Ann Warrington from the personnel. At the Palace, the Howard Brothers simulated deafness; they continued playing, influenced perhaps by their joint $1,000 a week salary.

"Up in Mabel's Room" may be good or bad fare; it certainly cannot excel its prelude of last night with a cast of Ed Nockels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor; J. J. Rosenthal and Fred Fleck, managers of the place and the house; Levi H. Fuller, counsel, and Edwin Mordant, secretary of the Actors' Equity association. Add stagehands, union labor leaders, shake well, and that's the situation that prevented the play for a time.

Lawyer to the Rescue.

The climax revolved about an agreement made earlier in the day when Levi H. Fuller asked a delay in the junction hearing before Master in Chancery Siegmund Zeller. The hearing was delayed until Monday—and did the managers relent? They were even bland until Mordant summoned their actors out by notes to Miss Meade and Miss Warrington at the Colonial, Howard Brothers at the Palace, and Walter Jones at the Woods.

Jones, a member of the Equity district council, had prepared to leave the theater and was merely visiting with the remainder of the cast when Manager Rosenthal summoned Attorney Fuller "to the rescue." [Business of clattering hoots in the distance.]

"You can't go out; it'll violate the court order," insisted Rosenthal, and Fuller agreed with him.

Nockels Defies Courts.

"O, he's in the pay of the managers, I suppose," replied Jones as Nockels took a cue to exclaim: "This is a strike. I don't give a damn for any junctions, courts or any other orders." After that fetching remark Rosenthal did not cover as he might have had it been melodramatic, but hastened to get Mordant on the telephone. That leader then countermanded his order and sent a written command directing Walter Jones to appear. During this time an impatient audience applauded in vain.

Jones finally consented to "make up," but he left his dressing room window open and Nockels brought up Mordant as "reserves" to call the strike. Their duet of "please strike" came too late, but it found Mr. Fuller registering distress for the actors would strike and violate his word to the court as well as a temporary restraining order. Finally there was an overture. The curtain ascended at 9:05.

Explain to New York Chief.

It proceeded pleasantly enough while Grant Mitchell, recent star of "A Prince There Was," hastened to Mr. Fuller's aid. A conference of managers and the two Equity representatives resulted in a telegram to President Gilmore of the Equity in New York, on whose authority Nockels declined he had "pulled the strike" that didn't strike.

It was explained to the New York office that a temporary restraining order is in force against further strikes.

But the managers were not so smothered by that. At the Colonial, George W. Lederer's company didn't mind the absence of Miss Meade and Miss Warrington. Mr. Lederer even released in his threat to "have them in jail" for contempt after the company gave its performance.

But Mordant, the secretary, who

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The Suez canal has been blocked by the sinking of the Italian cruiser Basilicata after an explosion, according to advices from Port Said. The cruiser sank near Tewfik.

FOODSTUFFS ARE SEIZED IN MANY STATES
Eggs, Sugar, Meat Taken in Raids by U.S.

The administration's fight through the attorney general's department on hoarders of food began yesterday with solid punches which landed on various parts of the "anatomy" of the United States.

As a result of the first round of what is declared in administration circles to be a fight to a finish, approximately forty warrants were issued for alleged violators of the Ohio cold storage law at Columbus, with prospects of the issuance of more today. Among the forty men accused are representatives of the Chicago packers.

Another blow struck by the government landed at Cleveland, where a libel was filed under the Lever act for the seizure of 200,000 pounds of sugar. Secret indictments against three officials of a fruit auction company of that city, charging violation of the Valentine anti-trust law, were returned.

Tries to Dodge U. S. Penalty.

Gov. Cox of Ohio made the direct charge in a telegram to the attorney general's department that one storage company in Cleveland was moving its products to Chicago to avoid federal penalty and that records as to previous storage were being destroyed in the process. Chicago authorities have been notified to be on the lookout for these stocks.

At St. Louis it was reported that 20,000,000 pounds of meat was seized and that a large cache of eggs, cheese, and other foodstuffs was located.

A libel under the Lever act was filed at Detroit for the seizure of nearly 10,000,000 eggs. At Nashville, Tenn., another 1,000,000 eggs were seized, while at Buffalo federal inspectors are said to have uncovered vast stores of various kinds of food.

ARMOUR, GIVEN SHOES, ASKS FOR ENTIRE OUTFIT
Tells How He Inks Up Derby to Make It Last.

J. Ogden Armour, head of the "big five" in the packing world, wears an overcoat two seasons. By careful conservation he stretches a felt hat over five years. Two suits are all he requires to carry along through a twelve month period.

He said yesterday in a letter to John J. Sullivan, president of the Builders and Traders' exchange, thanking that organization for a pair of shoes.

The exchange, on Thursday, took up a subscription to purchase shoes for Mr. Armour. Julius Bonifield, H. H. Merriock, and Roger C. Sullivan, whose footgear, they heard, had become quite "run down at the heel" because of their efforts along clothes conservation lines.

Makes Sure of Shoes.

Mr. Armour's letter of thanks follows:

My Dear Mr. Sullivan: I learned on reading this morning's paper, of the intention of the Builders and Traders' Exchange to send me a pair of shoes. I am inclosing my address so that by no chance will the shoes go astray. Your touching endorsement of the principle of conservation is much appreciated.

"When I peruse the bids which have been submitted by the Builders and Traders on various building projects in which I am interested, and when I note how high these bids are, I marvel that your generosity stops at a mere pair of shoes. It seems to me that such a prospect as your bids indicate me to be is deserving of a little more attention. It is as though you were asking me to the movies, when the circumstances warrant a box at the 'Passing Show'."

"Instead of stopping with a pair of shoes, why not present me with a wardrobe for a year? My wants are very reasonable, because I regard clothes from a utilitarian standpoint rather than the decorative. One overcoat usually lasts me for two years, and this happens to be the year when I must have a new one. You will not need to buy me a hat, because the felt one which I have used for the last five years is still in good condition, and the application of a little black ink now and then enables me to use the derby, which I like so well and which feels so comfortable on my head."

Two Suits a Year.

"Ordinarily I am content with two suits of clothes each year and you will not need to pay more than $75 each for them, because I am not keen for fancy stuff. My other needs may be summed up like this:

One straw hat at $3.
Six shirts at $5 each.
Three neckties at $1 each.
Six suits of underwear (I find part wool and part cotton more comfortable than all wool).
Two dozen pairs of black lisle socks.
Two pairs of silk socks for state occasions.

"You need not bother with such things as handkerchiefs or collars, because I am pretty well fixed in this respect."

"I may seem a little immodest in thus making known my annual requirements in wearing apparel, but I feel sure, from the newspaper report of your meeting, that the Builders and Traders do not want to be regarded as 'pikers'."

"Please convey my best regards to the exchange and ask them to excuse me for thus calling their attention to the mediocrity of their well intended gift."

"Very truly yours,"
"J. O. ARMOUR."

WARRANTS IN OHIO
Columbus, O., Aug. 15.—Approximately forty warrants charging Ohio food dealers with violations of the cold storage law, many of which are against local managers of the big Chicago packing companies, were issued by the late today and arrests will be made immediately, according to Gov. James M. Cox and Attorney General John G. Price.

In addition Gov. Cox appealed to United States Attorney General Palmer to seize approximately 2,500,000 pounds of meat and poultry which have been held in cold storage houses longer than the period allowed under the Ohio law.

Decrying Two States?

Gov. Cox in his telegram to Mr. Palmer said evidence had been uncovered that some of the big Chicago packing companies have shipped food into the state and then back to Chicago, and again shipped it into the state and sold "for the double purpose of deceiving the authorities of Ohio and Illinois and of keeping food necessities off the market in order that deficiency and higher prices might come together."

The governor asks the federal attorney general to bring criminal prosecutions against the offenders.

While the governor's telegram did not give the names of companies alleged to be shipping their products to Chicago, his telegram earlier in the day to Attorney General Palmer said Morris & Co. and Wilson & Co. were owners of part of the more than two million pounds of meat alleged to be held in the Cleveland storage houses illegally under Ohio laws. Brandt & Co., Cleveland, were alleged to own the remainder.

STRIKE DISEASE PUBLIC DANGER, SENATOR SAYS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—Exploring the contagion of "strike disease," which he said had apparently spread throughout the world, Senator Thomas, Democrat of Colorado, in the senate late today suggested that the "disease" be brought into congress. He added its members might organize a union and refuse to legislate until conditions have been changed, or at least until the members have been assured of reflection in 1920.

Senator Thomas said present conditions were a "melancholy commentary when it is considered that there is more money now in circulation than ever before." He hoped that production would not be so reduced that suffering would be caused this winter.

Mr. Thomas favored a law to prohibit policemen from forming organizations which might prevent them from acting in cases of strikes.

ASTOR TRANSFER OF MILLIONS TO SONS TAX DODGE?

New York, Aug. 15.—[Special.]—Deeds of trust were filed today in the registrar's office on behalf of William Waldorf Astor, conveying all of his real estate in New York City, or elsewhere, to the Farmers' Loan and Trust company as trustees in trust for his two sons, Waldorf Astor and Capt. John Jacob Astor.

The Manhattan realty which thus became virtually the possession of Waldorf and Capt. John Jacob Astor is valued at more than $50,000,000. No statement could be obtained from Valcourt Astor's lawyers as to the cause for this big transfer, but it is evidently in keeping with his policy to escape a heavy inheritance tax law, which is 5 per cent on bequests over $1,000,000.

Under the transfer in trust are land and buildings valued at more than $50,000,000, this would mean a saving to the estate of $2,500,000 in inheritance taxation.

Among the more valuable of Valcourt Astor's properties now transferred are the Hotel Astor, assessed at $4,050,000; the Astor theater, assessed at $1,002,000, and the Astor apartments on the west side of Broadway, between Seventy-fifth and Seventy-sixth streets, assessed at $1,225,000.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

BERLIN, Aug. 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—The German government has rejected the demand of the allies for the recall of Gen. von der Goltz, commander in chief of German forces in the Baltic provinces.

PARIS, Aug. 15.—Sweden, Norway, and Denmark are sending a collective note to the entente relative to the league of nations, according to the Frankfort Gazette.

PARIS, Aug. 15.—That the forts around Maubeuge were obsolete and incapable of withstanding modern artillery fire was brought out by the court of investigation into the surrender of Maubeuge to the Germans in September, 1914, according to information obtained unofficially.

The sessions of the court are being held in secret. Fort De Leveaux, the accounts say, collapsed within two hours, and the Maubeuge garrison consisted only of colonial infantry, which is said to have lost 53 per cent of its effectives.

CHILD, DESERTED BY HER BROTHERS, DROWNS IN LAKE

Waukegan, Wis., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—Lawrence Hladnick, 9 year old son of John Hladnick of North Chicago, his 5 year old brother, Frank, and his sister, Mary, aged 4, went to the lake in Pease park to play today. This evening the boys returned without the little girl. They denied they knew where she was. Finally, the younger boy began crying.

"Many went into the water and didn't come out," he wept.

"The body of the girl was recovered tonight from the lake by John Itok and C. A. Nelson, fishermen. The boys said they became frightened when their sister disappeared in about two feet of water and ran away."

Boston, Mass., Aug. 15.—Members of the Boston police force, disregarding a recent order of Police Commissioner Edwin U. Members of the new union said that about 1,400 members of the force participated in the afternoon and evening meetings.

today's activities is only the beginning in the state's war on food profiteering. He said many additional warrants will be issued, some probably tomorrow.

The governor yesterday requested the resignation of S. T. Nash, Cleveland, member of the state board of agriculture. Mr. Nash is president of the Cleveland Provision company, the manager of which is charged in a warrant issued today with violating the cold storage law.

Seize Tons of Sugar.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 15.—J. C. Breitenstein, assistant United States district attorney for northern Ohio, today announced that a libel has been filed under the Lever act against seizure and condemnation of 220,000 pounds of sugar belonging to the C. D. Kenney company of Baltimore and held in storage at Canton, O. Deputy Sheriff T. E. Walsh of Cleveland seized the sugar tonight.

E. S. Wertz, United States district attorney, will ask Judge Westenhaver in the federal court here to adjudge the sugar hoarded and order it condemned. If such order is made the sugar will be sold by the government and the proceeds, less the cost of seizure, turned over to the owners.

A secret indictment, charging violation of the Valentine anti-trust law, was returned today by the grand jury investigating Cleveland food conditions against William E. Bigelow, Harry J. Bigelow, and Albert C. Blair, officials of the Consolidated Fruit Auction company of this city.

Big Seizure in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 15.—Twenty million pounds of meats were reported seized today when federal authorities raided the South Cold Storage company here. Large stocks of eggs, cheese, and other foodstuffs were also said to have been located. Officials had not yet learned how much of the stock was returned today by the grand jury investigating Cleveland food conditions against William E. Bigelow, Harry J. Bigelow, and Albert C. Blair, officials of the Consolidated Fruit Auction company of this city.

Libel 10,000,000 Detroit Eggs.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 15.—A libel was filed here today under the Lever act for the seizure of nearly 10,000,000 eggs held in storage by the Rock Island Butter company of Toledo and A. F. Thibodeau & Co. of Detroit. United States district attorney Kinnane announced tonight.

Michigan has no statutes limiting storage of foodstuffs, but Mr. Kinnane declared an investigation will be made looking to proceedings against the owners under the state's anti-trust laws. Permission will be sought of the department of justice to place the eggs on the market immediately.

Further seizures were hinted at by Mr. Kinnane, who is working under instructions from Attorney General Palmer.

Three Men Indicted.

Toledo, O., Aug. 15.—The Rock Island Butter company of this city was indicted by the county grand jury here three days ago on the finding that the company with several others conspired to fix the price of a butter substitute at 23 1/2 cents a pound.

Separate indictments were returned against three members of the company, S. J. Bailey, William F. Stevenson, and James P. Klotz. They were released on bail of $500 each.

Busy at Nashville.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 15.—Nearly a million eggs were seized by the federal authorities here today at the cold storage plant of Noel & Co. The eggs, which were the property of Alloway Brothers, local produce dealers, were declared by the district attorney to constitute a supply largely in excess of the reasonable requirements of business.

Investigation in New York.

New York, Aug. 15.—Inspection of all cold storage and egg warehouses here for the purpose of discovering hoarded food supplies was ordered today by Mayor Hylan.

Big Storage at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Three and one-half million pounds of butter and more than 3,000,000 eggs have been located in cold storage warehouses here by federal investigators, according to a statement issued by the United States district attorney's office. The accumulation began last May, the warehouse records show.

It will be determined upon the return of District Attorney Lockwood from Chicago whether federal action against the warehouse is warranted.

Condemns Spoiled Food.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 15.—Dr. F. Simon, city health officer, announced his department has condemned 12,000 pounds of fruit, vegetables, and meats which had been allowed to spoil in storage.

Dr. Simon reported that two dairy firms have in storage 5,269,000 dozen eggs and 275,000 pounds of butter.

ARMY SUFFERS BY HOUSE DELAY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—Army officers declared here tonight that failure of the house of representatives to act upon the bill which passed the senate providing for retention of 7,500 emergency officers confronts the army with one of the most serious situations it has had to face in peace time in many years.

Unless these emergency officers are permitted to be retained in the army, it is said, the medical corps will be dangerously handicapped in caring for the health of the 225,000 men authorized to be retained in the army, as well as for 35,000 sick and wounded private soldiers now being treated.

It will be difficult, if not impossible, for the various staffs corps to take proper care of $5,000,000 worth of plant and property now in possession of the army as a result of its participation in the war with Germany.

ILLINOIS FAIR TO SET RECORD

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—Gates of the Illinois state fair swung open this morning on what officials said promises to be the biggest exposition in state annals.

Automobile races featuring Louis Disbrow and other "speed demons" are scheduled for tomorrow. In addition to the gas race program, if weather conditions are favorable tomorrow, Lieut. Ormer Locklear will give an aerial circus in which he will change from one plane to another in mid air. Auto races will take place on Saturday, August 23, ending the fair.

Horse racing events are arranged for Aug. 18 to 22 inclusive with entries from many states.

Among the bands at the fair this year will be the 71st regiment band of New York.

Every inch of exhibition space has been taken, according to E. M. Davidson, general manager, and new barns were necessary to accommodate the live stock entries.

SOUTH PUTS SAND ON SKID GREASED FOR PROFITEERS

Palmer Active Despite Foes of Wilson Food Plans.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—While the administration's plan to reinforce government control of food hoarding and profiteering is meeting with stiff resistance from Democratic southern senators, the attorney general is going ahead under existing law to drag all possible food he can from hiding and to force it into the market.

The revolt of the southern Democrats in congress against the president's high cost of living program grew stronger today and threats of a filibuster to defeat his recommendations were made in the senate agriculture committee.

The agriculture committee was so hostile to the administration bill to "put teeth into" the food administration act that action was again deferred in the hope that something would happen before Tuesday to make the southern Democrats more friendly.

The committee expects to hold a joint meeting with the house committee to discuss the measure. Southern senators promised a bitter fight on the floor if a favorable report is made on the bill amending the food control act.

I know of one senator who can talk against it for at least sixty days," said Senator Randall, Louisiana.

H. C. L. Friends Active.

While the agriculture committee was debating the food control amendments the subcommittee of the senate interstate commerce committee was engaged in a conference over the licensing proposal made by the president. Here again the discussion showed considerable sentiment against the measure.

The only action of the committee was to agree to hear Senator Kellogg, Minnesota, Monday on his bill providing a federal licensing system for all commerce engaged in interstate commerce doing over $10,000,000 annually.

Senator Reed, Missouri, Democrat, arch-enemy of government food control, declared "war on the administration program in a sensational speech. The senator indicated he would be just as strongly opposed to the amended bill as he was to the original measure in 1917.

Reed-McKellar Tilt.

The Missouri senator engaged in a sharp tilt with Senator McKellar of Tennessee, who insisted the regulation of cold storage would solve the high cost of meats and foodstuffs.

The senator from Tennessee has cold storage on the brain," declared Mr. Reed. "He looks into the ice box and to him it is the nation's bane."

Mr. McKellar insisted that cold storage was an important factor, and quoted the attorney general as saying that the food control law provides no penalty for its violation.

Senators Smith of Georgia and Reed took vigorous exception to this and read the penalty provision of the law.

Any man who can punish monopoly, hoarding, and conspiracy under this act needs to read law from the very beginning," Mr. Reed declared. "I have nothing against Mr. Palmer, but making him attorney general doesn't increase his legal knowledge."

Packers Put Up Defense.

That Smith & Co. do not hoard food products and that all the packers together own only about 34 per cent of the cold storage space in the country, was asserted by L. D. H. Weld, manager of Smith's department of commercial research, before the house committee on agriculture.

"Swift & Co. do not hoard food products," Mr. Weld said. "We buy poultry, pork, eggs, and other foodstuffs for the reason that these products are produced in surplus quantities and hold them to supply our trade during the period of scarcity. We buy only enough to last until the next season of heavy production begins."

"If we were forced to unload the products we now have in storage, this might give some temporary relief, but would mean scarcity and higher prices of poultry, dairy and meat products next fall and winter. It will be an extremely dangerous policy for the government to disregard the expert knowledge of those in the business and to seek the supply of meat foods sooner than conditions justify."

It will demoralize the market and have a disastrous effect on production by introducing additional risks into the storing of perishables, a business that now is sufficiently risky. Increased production depends absolutely on the utilization of extensive storage facilities."

Farmers Persecuted, Attorney Says.

John J. Miller, representing the national board of farm organizations, also appeared before the committee. He urged an amendment to the Clayton act permitting farmers to fix prices on milk and other agricultural products. He discussed the Chicago prosecutions of milk producers and declared the farmers have been persecuted.

"I have no panacea for the high cost of living," Mr. Miller said. "This is a time for sane, cool, careful, deliberate action. The wage of hysteria is going to pass. The American people are going to come to the conclusion that while there may be profiteering the great basic reasons for the high cost of living are economic and not flat from the government can change it, and there is danger of making matters worse."

R. C. L. FOE Ohio's Executive Gives U. S. Data on Food Hoarding and Offers Evidence Against the Offenders.

Clyne's Aid Says He Is Studying Evidence; No Arrests Today.

There will be no arrests or seizure in food hoarding cases today in Chicago.

This announcement, from R. A. Milroy, assistant district attorney, was the only important local development in the government's high cost of living fight yesterday.

Speculation on the possible return of United States District Attorney Clyne today, which is expected to bring immediate action against hoarders and price boosters, was rife in the federal building last night. It was freely predicted that he will at once follow the example set by prosecutors in other cities and make examples of some of the cases of hoarding or overcharging that have been presented to his office.

Locate Big Sugar Supplies.

"We are working on the reports presented to this office by the department of justice and the citizens," said Assistant District Attorney Milroy. "The size of the job of determining what is in storage and who are the owners will preclude any action toward seizure or arrest tomorrow. If we get the evidence, we can promise the public results, however."

"We know of two large supplies of sugar in Chicago which, we have reason to believe, come in the hoarding class. This case is now under scrutiny."

Wholesalers are buying sugar at $9.39 per hundred pounds. This allows them to sell to the retailer for $10, and the retailer should be able to buy for 11 cents a pound.

Average Retail Price 12 1/2 Cents.

"I am told that the price of sugar yesterday was as low as 11 1/2 cents a pound, as high as 13c, and at an average of 12 1/2c. This is better than prices a week ago, although the supply is less, if anything."

"We are glad to see sugar prices drop, but profiteers must not think that lowering the price will stop their prosecution, as we shall follow up every case that appears fruitful of a conviction."

The Storage of Fruits, Vegetables, Eggs, Poultry, and Meats is also within the scope of the investigation we are undertaking.

Five Take Profits.

"An example of some of the cases which we receive for verification is the following: A carload of sugar is shipped to Chicago consigned to a wholesaler. It was resold, again peddled, and the process was repeated until it had changed hands five times before being unloaded."

The moral in this case is that the public who consumes this particular lot of sugar will have to pay four additional profits entailed by the four extra sales. This is something the government tried to prevent by setting the price at 11 cents a pound."

Sugar Scarcity Grows Worse.

Meanwhile conditions in the sugar market grow worse, according to Henry H. Rolapp, head of the sugar distribution committee of the food administration.

A delegation of seven members will wait upon President Wilson. A telegram was dispatched to Secretary Tamm yesterday asking him to make an appointment. The delegates are Fred McAlver, Mrs. K. Alexander, Miss M. Murray, Mrs. D. Healy, W. G. Bonberg, A. Mincer, and A. Greenstone.

The cartoon by Mr. McCutcheon was captioned, "Our Siberian Exiles," and showed, first, Americans enlisting "to fight the Kaiser," and second, the same men in olive drab doing sentry duty about a railroad station, somewhere in Russia.

The immediate cause for this appeal was the arrest on Aug. 9 of seven farmers in Ohio, who were acting as representatives of the Ohio Farmers' Cooperative Milk company, in the sale of milk to the dealers in Cleveland.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Washington Bureau of The Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 15. At a conference on Saturday, President Wilson and Senator Eustace decided to concentrate effort on defeat of the proposed textual amendments to the peace treaty upsetting the Shantung settlement and quelling the votes of the United States and Great Britain in the league of nations.

The president still opposes even mild reservations, but he has been informed that without such modifications protecting rights and interests of the United States the treaty cannot be ratified.

Officials admitted today that the United States' first move in a new policy toward Mexico, if protection to American lives is not adequate, will be to withdraw moral and material support from the Carranza government. The present purpose of the government is not to sever diplomatic relations and to regard intervention as "a last resort."

The revolt of the southern Democrats in congress, particularly in the senate against the administration's program to strengthen food control legislation, is growing, and there are threats of a filibuster against it. While reinforcement legislation is held up, Attorney General Palmer is bludgeoning away under existing law, at hoarding and profiteering.

President Wilson vetoed the repeal of the daylight savings law for fiscal year 1918. The measure of the repeal at once planned another fight to pass the measure over his veto. They claim the prospects are favorable this time.

Representative Huddleston of Alabama introduced a resolution in the house asking the appointment of a special committee to investigate charges by Glenn B. Plumb that the railroads have been looted by Wall Street.

opening day of the week, showed substantial decreases in many varieties and two increases. The range:

Butter prices were unchanged yesterday. Cheese declined 1/4 to 1/2 cent. Live hogs were one cent lower, at 29 cents, wholesale. Potatoes advanced 25 to 50 cents per 100 pounds. Eggs were slightly higher.

At the stockyards hogs dropped 15 to 32 per 100 pounds, making a loss of $3 since Wednesday. The average was $29.15.

MAYOR SEEKS CHICAGO'S FULL SHARE OF FOOD

Figures District Should Have 43 Per Cent of U. S. Supplies.

Is Chicago going to get its share of the government surplus foodstuffs which are calculated to put a dent into the H. C. L. and make the food profiteer shiver in his boots?

That is the question that Mayor Thompson asked yesterday. The mayor's curiosity led him to put Assistant Corporation Counsel Edward J. Smekal to work on the question.

"The mayor would like to know what percentage of the foodstuffs released by the government are to come to Chicago," Mr. Smekal said. "Thus far I have been unable to get an answer to the question."

The government has divided the country into ten distributing zones. Chicago is in the seventh, which is composed of nine states. These states have a combined population of nearly 45,000,000 persons. According to my way of figuring, the seventh zone should get about 43 per cent of the entire amount of food to be sold by the government.

Will Confer With Kniskern.

"If, as one of the ten zones, the seventh is to receive one-tenth of amount released, Chicago as one big member of the seventh zone, is getting far less than her share in point of population."

Mr. Smekal will hold conferences today with Col. A. D. Kniskern of the quartermaster corps and Lieut. Col. O. V. Alcomb, zone surplus supply officer, in an attempt to find the answer to the mayor's question.

It is evident that Chicago will not let any of the government food go searching for a market.

Expects Quick Sale.

"Indications are that we will be sold out of all government food in five or six days," said George W. Montgomery, manager of The Fair, the only store authorized to buy for the mayor to distribute the food in his name. "We will beat the government postal office in getting the food into the hands of the consumer, and if they don't like sharp there will be no food left for them by the time they get their printed forms out for orders."

Mr. Montgomery announced that the food will not be on sale before next Wednesday or Thursday. He is planning to use the Fair warehouses on the north, south, west, and northwest sides of the city as distributing points. He doubts the wisdom of putting the meats and canned goods on sale in the Fair store, inasmuch as near riots, with broken bones and calls for the police, have taken place in the eastern stores when the food was put on the counters.

To Name Other Agents.

It was admitted by postal authorities in charge of printing the order books for the surplus food that it will be "the end of next week" before orders can be filled through the postoffice. It is probable that Mayor Thompson will wait his race with Postmaster William B. Carlie to put the food before the public by two or three days.

The Fair, Mr. Smekal indicated yesterday, will not be the only agent of Mayor Thompson in the distribution of the food. Applications from Wieboldt's and the Boston Store, as well as from half a dozen smaller outlying stores, are on file for appointment as distributors. Mr. Smekal said yesterday Wieboldt's and the Boston Store will be given a share in the distribution if they sign the same contract signed by the Fair, which includes the obligation to deliver the food at government prices and with free delivery.

900 Cars of Food on Way.

Lieut. Col. James P. Castleman, seventh zone surplus food officer, has been put in charge of the release of the food for Chicago. He will decide how much food is to be given to each of the mayor's agents. According to Lieut. Col. Castleman, 900 cars of foodstuffs not needed for army use are now on their way to Chicago.

An additional list of foods which will be available for sale to the public was issued yesterday by the government. These foods will not be sold through parcel post.

'Wilson Dam' to Be Name of Mussel Shoals Work

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—"Wilson dam" will henceforth be the official name of the government dam now in process of construction in the Tennessee river at Mussel Shoals, Ala. This was disclosed today in an order from the chief of staff of the army.

TURK He Wants America to Take Mandate and Install Yankee Schools, Farms, and Official Purity in Turkey.

Send Us Farmers in Your Mandate, Too, They Say.

BY LADISLAV CZAPKEL

[By Special Cable.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 15.—Rustem Bey, former Turkish minister to Washington, has his own idea about the proposed American mandate for Turkey. In a book which is about to be published in French, which is busy putting into English for the school of the American public, he has developed his suggestions in detail. Rustem Bey, he said today, on President Wilson's fourteen points.

Like a majority of the thinking Turks, Rustem Bey said he had come to the conclusion Turkey must become a state to continue her existence, and she is to continue her existence as an independent state. Only Turkey, he said, can still contain the American country possesses the capacity necessary to hold the empire. Under benevolent guidance the Turks can regain their lost look in the eyes of the world. Rustem Bey's opinion is that the American mandate for Turkey has been swinging around to the idea of inviting America to undertake the task.

COSTS PAYMENT MAY BE LIMITED TO FORD DAMAGE

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—An interesting feature of the Henry Ford-Chicago Tribune libel verdict returned last night is the amount of costs assessed under Michigan statutes. Under one state statute when nominal damages are awarded not more than $50 costs can be assessed in addition to the verdict award.

Another state statute, said to be applicable to the Ford-Tribune case, provides that the costs assessed against a defendant shall not be greater in amount than the amount of the damages. In other words, the damages awarded Mr. Ford are 6 cents and the court costs chargeable to The Tribune are likewise 6 cents.

The actual court costs—jurors, court attendants, etc.—will be borne by Wayne county [Detroit], where Mr. Ford brought his million dollar suit, afterward transferred to Macomb county [Mount Clemens]. Each litigant, of course, pays its own lawyers and trial preparation expenses.

Each of the jurors under the Michigan statute receives $3 a day for service. This is among the expenses to be borne by Wayne county.

Oregon Editors Forward 6 Cent Draft to 'Tribune'

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 15.—[To The Tribune, Chicago.]—The Oregon State Editorial association, regarding The Tribune as vindicated by the verdict of the jury in the Henry Ford libel case, has decided to forward to the Tribune a draft for 6 cents, with the request that it be used to pay the judgment secured by the world's leading candidate for frivolity.

WOMAN SAVES MISSING CHILD; HER STORY TOLD

said the train would get to the park in about an hour.

"After the train started I looked out the window and after while we got outside the town and out the fields. I thought the hour was a long one and I asked him about it. He said it was the next station to the park.

Wasn't Any Park.

"But at the next station that wasn't any park. There was nothing but the fields and a few houses. Then he said he had made a mistake and that it was the next station.

"The next station was a long way away, it seemed, and when the train stopped Andrew did not get out. He said we could ride to the next station and walk to the park. He said he liked to walk. But it was almost dark by that time, and the conductor came around again. When I asked the conductor to put him off, he said if I did I never would get back to my mamma.

"Then I got sleepy, and guess I went to sleep before the conductor came around again. When I woke up the train was in a depot, and after awhile I found it was Omaha.

Threat Dries Her Tears.

"We got out and started to walk up town. Andrew stopped at a fruit stand and bought some bananas, and I went to crying. He told me if I cried he never would take me home, so I quit crying, and he took me to the boarding house. He wanted to come into my room, but the lady there wouldn't let him do it. She brought me my meals every day, and treated me well. She took me out in an automobile one day, and took me to the park and to the country.

"I didn't know what to do, and so I didn't try to do anything. I just waited. Every time Andrew would come the lady there at the boarding house would make him go away."

There for One Week.

"It was last Friday morning when Frakas took the little girl to a Greek boarding house kept by Tom Demos. At the boarding house he claimed to be the brother of the little girl, and asked for a room for the two. Demos refused, and insisted that he take two rooms. Afterward Staffka told Mrs. Demos the conditions under which she left home, and when Frakas attempted to enter the boarding house, he was ordered out, and threatened to notify the police unless he remained away. Frakas occupied a room on the floor above the child all the time, and several times attempted to get into her room, but Mrs. Demos prevented him from doing so.

Police Make Search.

Last night the police got wind that Frakas was in Omaha and detectives went down through the Greek colony to search for him. The first night the police were after him spread through the colony and it is supposed to have reached the kidnaper.

He did not return to his room last night and about daylight this morning telephoned to the rooming house that he was sending a taxi after Staffka and for Demos to have her dressed and ready for the automobile when it called.

Mrs. Demos dressed Staffka, but instead of waiting for the taxi, she telephoned the police. The police automobile was sent for her and detectives watched the house for Frakas, but the Greek did not come to the house.

TALKS WITH MOTHER.

Secure in the knowledge that her daughter, Staffka, was safe, Mrs. Jan Avgares passed her first restful night yesterday since Tuesday. In the afternoon she had talked with Staffka over the long distance telephone, and Staffka had assured her that she was "well and not hurt, but my dress is dirty." With the stepfather and the little children she planned for a reunion party when Staffka arrives at the home at 1142 South Western avenue today.

Birth of New Liberal Party Fails to Occur

Since 1913 Mr. Gade, long a practicing attorney of this city, has been consul general to Brazil from Norway. Mr. Gade is on his way to Norway for instruction and will make a short visit in Chicago.

The pilot was attempting to make a third loop when he lost control of the machine.

CRAZY QUILT OF RUSSIA

1—The bolsheviks have been forced to abandon the towns of Sarny and Rymno in Volhynia and to fall back upon Dubno and Lutsk.

2—Russian and Estonian forces advancing along the southern shore of the Gulf of Finland have crossed the Luga river in the vicinity of Narva.

3—A mutiny has been reported among the soldiers of a regiment of British on the Archangel front.

4—The bolsheviks fighting the Kolchak forces in the region of Troitsk have advanced fifty-six miles.

The kaleidoscopic aspect of southern Russia, and confused jumble of towns captured and abandoned is due to the fact that there are actually five parties fighting over the same ground. There are the Ukrainian Red and White guards. The Whites are led by Gen. Simon Petliura, who is attacking both the Ukrainian and Moscow bolsheviks, and is being warred on by the Poles. The Poles themselves are fighting the northern or Moscow bolsheviks east of their own border. In the east the Cossacks under Gen. Denekine are fighting the Moscow bolsheviks, and also the Ukrainian variety of Reds. The bolsheviks have to withstand the combined attacks of Poles, Ukrainian Whites, and Denekine Cossacks. Admiral Kolchak is fighting the bolsheviks at Omak, and the British lately took a hand on the lower Volga near Astrakhan.

ESTHONIA JOINS NEW REGIME AT REVAL, RUSSIA

Pick Part of Cabinet; "Reds" Lose Three More Towns.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 15.—A government for northwest Russia, including Esthonia, is being formed at Reval, according to dispatches received today. The cabinet, so far as the formation has proceeded, is composed of Premier Lianzow, Minister of War Suworow, Minister of Food Maximow, and M. Alexandrow as minister of home affairs and communications.

An advance on Petrograd by anti-bolshevik forces, which it is hoped will be decisive, is announced in messages from Helsinki. The attacking forces are commanded by Gen. Junditch, whose Russian volunteer troops will be supported by Esthonians.

Peasants Aiding Anti-Reds.

OMSK, Aug. 16.—[Delayed.]—Anti-bolshevik forces operating on the southern front of Russia are being aided by peasants' revolts. It was stated here today by military authorities of the all-Russian government.

Peasants who rose against the soviet government in the Tambov region, about 300 miles southeast of Moscow, joined the Don Cossack forces. On the left bank of the Volga river, east of the Tambov district, peasants also revolted against the bolshevik rule and joined the Kuban Cossacks.

Poles Keep Pushing On.

WARSAW, Aug. 15.—An official communication dealing with the operations of the Polish forces in the Minsk region of Russia says:

"We are pursuing on the whole front the enemy who is retreating. We have reached a line twenty-five kilometers north of Minsk, where the population gave us an enthusiastic welcome."

Russian "Reds" Retreat.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Further bolshevik retreats are announced in a soviet government wireless dispatch dated Aug. 14, received today.

In the direction of Borisoff, the message said, the bolshevik troops retired to new positions, and after three days' fighting they abandoned Rymno and Sarny, fifty miles north of Rovno and the town of Migrod.

In the Troitsk region, where the forces of Admiral Kolchak have been retreating, the bolshevik report said the soviet forces had advanced fifty-six miles.

Reds Suffer Another Reverse.

Bolshevik forces along the south coast of the Gulf of Finland, in the neighborhood of Narva, have suffered a reverse in fighting against Esthonian and anti-bolshevik troops, according to another bolshevik wireless dispatch, which admits that the soviet army in that region has been driven back to the Luga river.

FIGHT IN SENATE ON PEACE TREATY REACHING CLIMAX

Wilson Forces Plan to Contest All the Changes.

rest assured that I and senators who feel as I do will cast their votes against the entire treaty," Senator Lodge said. "The foreign relations committee has repeatedly predicted that unless effective and binding reservations and amendments were adopted, thirty-five senators, more than the one-third necessary to rejection, would vote against the whole pact."

Senator Hitchcock plans to launch the administration drive against amendments with a speech in the senate early next week. The views he will set forth are concurred in by the president.

"Want to Defeat League."

"It has become apparent," Senator Hitchcock said, "that the foreign relations committee is not fairly representative of the senate. The large majority of the Republican members are openly hostile to the League of Nations. They are not reservationists. They want to defeat the league. They are determined to support some amendments. These amendments must be defeated by all hands."

"The adoption of amendments by the senate means that a new treaty must be prepared by the United States for submission to Germany. No matter how favorable to Germany the amendments proposed might be, Germany would undoubtedly seize upon them as a lever to force other concessions from the United States, or refuse to ratify the amendments under any circumstances. Germany would be pleased to have the United States stay out of the peace treaty."

The senator states that there was little discussion of reservations at his conference with the president.

"The big issue before us now," he said, "is the amendments. After we defeat them, we will take up the reservation issue."

The senator added that President Wilson's attitude toward reservations, even of the mild character, was unchanged.

Senator Hitchcock said he had abandoned his intention of making a motion on the senate floor to force the submission to Germany of the foreign relations committee. It would not be necessary now, he thought.

The first definite move toward cutting the league covenant out of the treaty was made today by Senator Fall. He proposed an amendment to determine how "inextricably interwoven" the two propositions were. His amendment would cut the word "league" out of the treaty proper and substitute the word "commission."

Lodge Requests Meeting.

Senator Lodge's letter to the president asking for a conference on the treaty said:

"Soon after the treaty of Versailles had been laid before the senate, Senator Hitchcock informed the committee on foreign relations that if the committee desired at any time to see you for the purpose of discussing the treaty, you would be glad to receive them, if you were given twenty-four hours' notice. Taking advantage of this suggestion, the committee this morning instructed me by vote to say to you that they would be glad if they could meet you for the purpose of asking certain information in regard to the treaty in regard to time and place as might be convenient to you. Owing to the absence of one or two senators, I take the liberty of saying that it would be more convenient to the committee if the appointment could be made for some day subsequent to Monday next.

"It was the general desire of the committee that I should say to you that it was assumed that nothing said at the meeting would be considered confidential."

"The senate has ordered the treaty to be considered in an executive session, and in consequence with this order the committee feels that any inquiry in regard to the treaty which comes into their possession should not be withheld from the public."

Reply Made by President.

The president's reply to Senator Lodge said:

"I have received your letter of yesterday and in reply hasten to express the hope that the senate committee on foreign relations will give me the pleasure of seeing them at the White House on Tuesday morning next, the 19th, at 10 o'clock."

"I also welcome the suggestion of the committee that nothing said at the conference shall be regarded as confidential. In order that the committee may have a full and trustworthy record of what is said, I shall have a stenographer present, and take the liberty of suggesting that if you should wish to bring one of the committee's stenographers with you, that would be entirely agreeable to me. The presence of two stenographers would lighten the work."

"It will be most agreeable to me to have an opportunity to tell the committee anything that may be serviceable to them in their consideration of the treaty."

American Inquiry Ended on Mandate Over Turkey

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 15.—The American commission charged with an investigation in Turkey regarding possible mandates has concluded its work so far as the Armenian question is concerned. Turks who were heard by the commission in connection with the Armenian investigation protested both orally and in writing against the creation of an independent Armenian state. The commission, it was said, will go to Smyrna and Adrianople and conclude its work in about two weeks.

CARRANZA MUST PACIFY COUNTRY OR LOSE U. S. AID

His Overthrow May Lead America to Intervene.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—If the Mexican government fails to meet the demand of the United States for protection to American lives, the first move by the United States will be to withdraw its moral and material support from the Carranza government.

This was indicated today in official quarters where Mexican intervention by the United States was said to be a "remote possibility." It was admitted, however, that to withdraw moral and material support of the United States from Carranza would ultimately mean the collapse of the only recognized government in Mexico and that such a consequence might force American intervention.

Officials made it plain, however, that the United States, if forced to withdraw support from Carranza, would not give aid and comfort to any faction in Mexico.

Europe Expects Action.

There were intimations in official quarters today that Henry L. Fletcher, American ambassador to Mexico, is being kept in Washington because of the reluctance of the department to maintain an ambassador at Mexico City while conditions which have obtained in Mexico for the last year are not improved.

It was stated authoritatively that European nations look to the United States to effect a betterment of conditions in Mexico. At the time it was declared emphatically that the state department "does not know" of any obligation assumed by the United States to European power to reestablish orderly conditions in Mexico.

There has been an impression, however, that President Wilson is in tacit agreement with the entente premiers that the Mexican situation should be left to the United States, and that America should not be embarrassed in handling the problem by the interference of other parties.

Seek Union of Liberals.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 15.—A union of the Mexican Liberal alliance and the Mexican union, organizations having branches in border and eastern cities for the purpose of bringing about peace in Mexico by uniting all factions opposed to the Carranza government, was announced here today by Manuel Bonillas, general executive chairman of the Liberal alliance.

Mexicans on the border have joined the movement, which seeks to have all of the rebel leaders unite and agree on what terms they will stop fighting.

IRISH STATESMEN HERE CALL ON U.S. TO 'KEEP PLEDGE'

5,000 Chicagoans Back
Plea and Oppose the World League.

Ireland's cry for freedom was heard in Chicago last night. H. J. Boland and Liam Mellows, members of the "Irish parliament," brought it speaking before 5,000 Chicagoans of Irish birth or lineage at a mass meeting held under the auspices of the United Irish Societies in Brand's park.

The Chicagoans responded with a will by immediately adopting unanimously a resolution to be sent to President Wilson and to every member of congress, urging the passage of the League bill, which provides "for a United States minister and full consular service to the Irish republic."

It was Mellows, the first to speak, who pointed out the analogy between the early history of the United States and the current history of Ireland.

"If there are here tonight any who doubt that the Irish will win," he said, "let me point out to you a little of your own early history. Your Declaration of Independence was signed in 1776. Yet in the succeeding years, from then until 1783, when the colonies were recognized by England, you had some perilous times and might at any time have lost had it not been for your great and intrepid leaders."

"Then why should Ireland despair? We proclaimed our independence on Jan. 21, 1919, and if it took you seven years to gain recognition then we may have hope also."

"Ireland won the only moral victory of the great war just over when she refused to accede to English conscription. This must not be misunderstood. It was simply that they felt they had too long spilled their blood for England."

Tells of Struggle.
Boland told of the recent struggles of Ireland, declaring that "on this day last year Ireland had reached a crisis in her national life."

"The land was in the iron grip of a ruthless foe, who had proclaimed the Irish nation an illegal assembly, and held more than 600 Irishmen and three noble Irish women in jail without trial or fair play."

"But to Ireland's glory be it said that she came through with head erect. Despite the efforts of the military and public meetings which had been declared illegal were held, and Ireland proved that against the united will of the people force could not prevail."

"Next the men and women of Ireland by an 80 per cent vote declared their independence and set up the form of government which they are prepared to obey. But remember that the army of occupation withdrew and Ireland is ready to take her rightful place among nations."

Can Be Self-Supporting.
Boland asserted Ireland can stand alone and quoted statistics to prove it. He asserted that the tax of $175,000 collected by the English government from Ireland last year would be enough to run the entire government business of five free European countries—Denmark, Greece, Bulgaria, Switzerland, and Norway.

Attorney Hugh O'Neill then introduced the resolution which also declared those assembled "believe uncompromisingly in the Monroe doctrine of George Washington"; that they are "unilaterally opposed to the proposed league of nations covenant" and "believe in upholding the Monroe doctrine as an established American national policy."

"The league covenant," the resolution states, "threatens the life of the American republic, nullifies the Declaration of Independence, imperils the constitution, impairs the American sovereignty, destroys the Monroe doctrine, creates an unholy alliance, and pledges the lives and property of American people to protect plunder and guarantee the world supremacy of the two remaining despotic empires of the world—Japan and Great Britain."

Judge Robert E. Crowe was chairman of the meeting.

DEVLIN OPPOSES
THE SINN FEIN
POLICY IN IRELAND

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Joseph Devlin, Nationalist member of parliament for Belfast, addressing a meeting of Nationalists today at Blackrock, near Drogheda, Ireland, made an appeal for the old Nationalist policy as against the Sinn Fein policy in the matter of abstention from attendance upon the sessions of parliament.

Mr. Devlin contended that the presence of the eighty Irish members at Westminster during the peace conference would have changed Ireland's fate, because every voice raised for freedom in the house of commons "resounded through two hemispheres."

The Nationalists, Mr. Devlin continued, had given the Sinn Feiners fair play, but in the future must show whether the old policy, so fruitful of results, or the new policy, so prolific in promises, was the better for Ireland.

Troops at Londonderry.
LONDONDERRY, Ireland, Aug. 15.—Troops manned the walls of Londonderry today for the first time since the historic siege of the city in 1689, as part of the military effort to prevent the Nationalist and Sinn Fein "demonstration" and procession set for today.

QUAKERCITY COPS FAR FROM BEING RIP VAN WINKLES

Nip Race, Strike, and Vice Troubles in the Bud.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—This city offers Chicago several suggestions for the improvement of its police methods.

The police here have been on the lookout for race trouble for two years. At present they are hunting for a Negro claiming to be from Chicago.

"What we have here is a situation," the chief said, "We gave orders to the police to get certain colored persons to arm. He spoke last Sunday in a colored church after the services. From several who heard him, the police have learned that he said substantially:

"Now is the time for colored people to arm. Get ready. The white man is against you and you must prepare to defend yourselves."

Seek Race Not Agitators.
"We would like to get hold of that fellow even if he claims to come from your town," Police Superintendent James Robinson said. "We don't like that sort of talk."

"As soon as you have done to prevent race riots," was asked.
"As have you any trouble started, or perhaps a little before," the chief replied, "we notified all dealers to stop the sale of firearms and ammunition, and they cooperated. We have double the two night shifts of police in certain colored precincts. We don't allow crowds to congregate in the areas where white and colored are liable to be talking."

"Have you had any race trouble?"
"Some time back when a colored woman moved into a white residence district we deemed it prudent to be alert," the chief said. "We gave orders to compel every one on the streets in the threatening territory to keep moving. The brother and two nephews of a police lieutenant had to be beaten up before they were convinced we meant for every one to move. One of these young men had an arm broken."

Keep Curb on Radicals.
"How do you handle the reds, I. W. W.s and other radicals?"
"They cannot parade without a permit," the chief said. "I prescribe their line of march. They cannot hold a meeting in any hall before they obtain our consent, give a list of the speakers, and designate in what language they will talk. No one can speak who has been indicted in any city."

"We have our interpreters and stenographers present. Any disloyal statement or utterance suggesting violence or disturbance stops the meeting and the leaders are arrested."

"This will serve as an illustration: We gave a permit for a meeting and a parade, but not along the route desired for one by the radicals. At the meeting one speaker suggested that the crowd march out of the hall on streets for which they had no permit. At that moment our detectives arrested twenty-nine and the magistrate fined each $10. The judges cooperate closely."

How They Handle Strikes.
"Any special methods on strikes?" was asked.
"We permit peaceful picketing, but prohibit yelling and singing, such as you describe in Buffalo and New York," the chief explained. "No striker can put his hand on any worker. We even accompany workers on their street cars to and from employment."

"Any policeman who joins a labor union will be discharged. That question was settled here two years ago."

While Chicago has had seven bank robberies this year, Philadelphia has not had one in seven years.

"If we were to have a bank holdup the town would go wild," the chief said. "I don't remember that we have had one in my nineteen years in the department."

Two methods of curbing vice are said to have proven satisfactory. The woman of the street, who is arrested, or her male parasite, goes to the bu-

GERMAN WOMEN RAIL; WANT WAR PRISONERS BACK

BERLIN, Aug. 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—A woman's demonstration for the speedy return of German prisoners of war yesterday ended when the women were dispersed by the police after they had marched to the chancellery, where they gave the soldiers a tongue lashing.

The meeting was noisy. Women screamed, some tore at their hair, and others fainted. Some of the speakers gave up their efforts to talk to the audience.

Some of the more excited women proposed the organization of a crusade to cross the frontier and bring the prisoners home by force and similar schemes. One woman caused intense excitement by reading an alleged account of the prisoners' terrible sufferings.

During a quieter period of the meeting it was voted to address wireless messages regarding the release of the prisoners to Japan and the United States.

reau of identification to leave a photograph and finger prints. A policeman is stationed in front of a gay flat on which direct and convincing evidence cannot be readily obtained.

It is claimed that the finger printing of gamblers more than a year ago caused the professionals to move away. As an aid in recovering stolen automobiles, Pennsylvania has just passed a law requiring the purchaser of a car to make an affidavit and file it with the police department. The police have the power to lift up the hood of a car and get the number, and failure of a buyer to file the prescribed affidavit subjects him to arrest and a maximum penalty of a year in jail.

This affidavit describes the car in detail and gives considerable information regarding both seller and buyer.

Jail Habitual Criminals.
There is another law which permits the police to arrest any person on sight who has been convicted twice before. The penalty for getting caught is ninety days. This act is the principal weapon in reducing the city of habitual and professional criminals.

On money saving methods the Philadelphia force supply confirmation of information obtained in New York and Boston. The house sergeant here also acts as police operator. The turnkeys fire the boiler of the station, sweep the walks, and keeps the tower part of the station clock clean.

The Chicago police committee motored from New York to Philadelphia. Maj. James Miles of the efficiency staff and Harris Keeler of the Chicago bureau of public efficiency came by train.

Think President Can Be Beaten.
The belief is expressed that the prospects of passing the bill over the president's veto are better than when an effort was made to do so a few weeks ago.

The affirmative vote for the passage of the agricultural bill over the president's veto was only eight votes short of two-thirds of those voting. A third vote is said to be assured in the senate if favorable action is obtained in the house.

House officers and members of congress could not recall today a previous instance of a president having twice vetoed the same bill.

President Repeats Reasons.
In his veto message today the president said:

"The immediate and pressing need

CONGRESS STILL NURSES FARMER DAYLIGHT FIGHT

House Will Try to Pass
Repeal Bill Over
Second Veto.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—Advocates of the repeal of the daylight saving law will make a determined effort to pass the measure over the president's veto.

His message vetoing the bill reached the house today, but adjournment was taken following a point of quorum before there was opportunity to read it. The plan is to bring it up for action in the house probably on Tuesday. Efforts are being made to get all members to return to Washington and a thorough canvass is being made by those representing agricultural interests.

And the interest of the farmer is not in all respects separated from these interests. He needs what the factories produce along with the rest of the world. He is profited by the prosperity which their success brings about. His own life and methods are more easily adjusted. I venture to think, that those of the manufacturer and the merchant, considerations which have led me to withhold my signature from this repeal.

"I hope that they are considerations which will appeal to the thoughtful judgment of the house and in the long run to the thoughtful judgment of the farmers of the country, who have always shown an admirable public spirit."

Of similar character is the looting of medical warehouses by the Roumanians. The hospitals are greatly in need of supplies, bandages and medicines; yet the Roumanians daily are loading their trucks with things necessary to save the lives of 20,000 patients in the hospitals of this city, and sending them off to Roumania. Surgical instruments and hospital appliances also were stolen in the same way. One man today counted fifteen truckloads shipped out.

ROUMANIA BENT ON BELGIUMIZING HUNGARY HUNGARY

Wears Mask of Delay for Allies While Looting
the Country.

The following article, sent from the theater of events in Budapest, are quite different from the stories originating in Paris and Geneva printed yesterday and indicating that the Roumanians were obedient to the dictates of the allied mission in Budapest.

BY FARMER MURPHY.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
[By Special Cable.]

(Copyright, 1919: By the Tribune Company.)
BUDAPEST, Aug. 15.—(Delayed.)—Roumanian intentions with reference to the wishes of the entente as well as toward Hungary were clearly revealed today. As to the demands of the entente, Roumanians evidently will adopt a policy of delay and procrastination as to the execution of a decision until they have had time to loot Budapest and the entire country. Toward Hungary they have adopted a policy which is a mixture of conciliation and intimidation.

During the period of waiting more machinery, more railroad materials, more provisions and live stock daily are being stolen and shipped out of the country.

By a menacing ultimatum they evidently hope to frighten the present government into letting them remain until they have succeeded in drying.

Talk Like German Junkers.
The Roumanians are reported to be talking very high and mighty to the Hungarians, telling them they care not for the wishes of the entente; that the Roumanian army is the only one in Europe of any account; that the only reason the English and Americans do not favor their pretensions is commercial jealousy. This is the kind of talk that filters into Hungarian circles.

Meanwhile food conditions, because of the action of the Roumanians in destroying the railroads as well as appropriating the flour and other stores, grows worse. A thousand people have been unable to get any bread at all for three days and are almost frantic. The English and Americans, who are all prepared to send food to relieve the situation, hesitate to do so because it amounts to the same thing as feeding the Roumanian plunderers. What is the use of sending provisions if the Roumanians are permitted to carry off everything in sight, is understood to be their view.

How They Operate.
Where the Roumanians do not actually steal property, they requisition in a manner which practically amounts to the same thing. For example, they will pay three or four crowns for ducks and geese when the market price is 500 to 1,000.

The feature of their performances which is of particular interest to Americans, who are supplying food to the starved children of Europe, is that scores of babies in the hospitals are being killed because the Roumanians are blowing up railroads, which action cuts off the milk supply.

Looting of Medicines.
Of similar character is the looting of medical warehouses by the Roumanians. The hospitals are greatly in need of supplies, bandages and medicines; yet the Roumanians daily are loading their trucks with things necessary to save the lives of 20,000 patients in the hospitals of this city, and sending them off to Roumania. Surgical instruments and hospital appliances also were stolen in the same way. One man today counted fifteen truckloads shipped out.

CABINET FALLS, NEW ONE RISES, IN HUNGARY

What to Do with Various Kinds of Money Troublesome.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—(Dispatches received in London by way of Berlin say that the new Hungarian cabinet headed by Herr Lovassy has failed. One dispatch, credited to the Budapest correspondent of the Berlin Vossische Zeitung, declares that another cabinet, which is ultra-conservative, has been formed.

The Vossische Zeitung's list of the latest cabinet embraces Herr Friedrich as premier and Herr Lovassy as foreign minister.

Lovassy, the correspondent says, agreed to enter the cabinet in order to prevent the representatives in it of Archduke Joseph from controlling both the internal and foreign policies of the government.

The Christian Socialists are said to be the principal supporters of the new cabinet.

Debate Money Question.
BERLIN, Aug. 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—One of the first things taken up for discussion by the new Hungarian cabinet was the question of what should be done concerning the money issued while the communists were in power.

The Bela Kun regime will not lose everything. It is said to be probable that the communist or "white money" will be given an arbitrary value of one-fifth of the "blue money," the name by which the almost worthless Austro-Hungarian crowns are known.

Some Hungarian industrial leaders maintain that the "white money" is almost entirely in the hands of speculators and the general public principally holds the notes issued by the Károlyi government, which are being redeemed by the Hungarian state bank.

Charles Still Claims Role.
BERLIN, Aug. 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—A courier has arrived in Budapest, according to reports received here, with a letter from former Emperor Charles to Archduke Joseph, in which Charles declares he is still the crowned king of Hungary and commissions Joseph to take over the sovereign powers until his return. The reports add that the letter thanks the archduke for his services to the dynasty.

Protest by Jugo-Slavs.
PARIS, Aug. 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Jugo-Slav delegation here has issued a note elaborating its message to the peace conference and testing against the recognition of the regime of Archduke Joseph, the new head of the Hungarian government.

The note describes the archduke and his supply minister, Major Chervinski, and declares that his administration would be a restoration of Hapsburg authority endangering Jugo-Slavia and other nations freed from Austro-Hungarian domination.

A military review in Pershing's honor has been arranged here and he will be entertained by King Victor Emmanuel, Gen. Diaz, Italian commander in chief, and Lieut. Gen. Albrici, minister of war.

ANOTHER MEXICAN CRISIS.

According to diplomatic standards, the state department's latest note to Señor Carranza is a sharp admonition which any recipient government might well take seriously. It is not in terms an ultimatum, but it might at least be interpreted as the forerunner of an ultimatum.

Unfortunately, the experience of the Carranza government or its predecessors, with Mr. Bryan or Mr. Lansing—that is, with Mr. Wilson—has not been such as to give such weight to the warning as it would carry if it had the signature of a British or a French or Japanese foreign secretary. Washington has thundered before, and no rain has fallen. Washington has gone even beyond "sharp warnings" and beyond "near ultimatums."

We have taken a Mexican seaport by force of arms—and got out of it without accomplishing what we went in to do. We have sent an expeditionary force deep into Mexican territory, kept it there for weeks—and retired without getting what we went after. Secretary Lansing's tremendous indictment of Carranza's conduct in June, 1918, was a more formidable and conclusive document than the present note. But its effects were hardly proportionate.

Nevertheless, we hope this time the voice of Washington will be heard without derision at Chapultepec. We hope even more that this note has behind it at last a policy of decisive action. Assistant Secretary Polk is reported to have said there is no alternative to the present policy—it can be called a policy—except intervention. He may be right, but if he is that fact should not deter the government from addressing itself vigorously to the Mexican problem without further delay.

If intervention, as The Tribune has frankly urged for four years, is necessary to the enforcement of Mexico's international obligations and the protection in consequence of the lives and rights of our citizens and of the nationals whose governments have not protected them out of consideration for our policy and susceptibilities, it is better for us to act now than under humiliating pressure from powers determined to wait upon us no longer.

Intervention is not a pleasant resort. It will cost lives and money. But it will also save both in larger number and amounts, by forestalling or obviating the more serious complications implied in Mexican disorder and irresponsibility. Carranza has deserved no consideration from us, whose motives he has traduced and whose aid he has refused. He and his officials talk interminably, but with no respect for truth. They are doing today what they did in 1914 and 1915, and it is long past time to put our relations upon a more reliable and self-respecting basis. Confiscation, violence, invasion, and massacre have been too long the portion of our fellow countrymen on the border and in Mexico.

If the present note means business, some credit is fairly claimed for The Tribune's persistent effort through years of Mexican confusion and outrage to bring the facts home to the government and to the people. The striking picture of border conditions presented in the course of the Ford trial, with its heartrending stories of murder and devastation, has brought the consequences of our Mexican policy before the public with a new force. Perhaps it had its effect even in Washington, and certainly the government may proceed now, if it is disposed to action, with confidence in an informed public support for all measures vigorously pressed in the enforcement of international rights and responsibilities.

THE FORD VERDICT.

In the libel suit brought by Mr. Henry Ford against The Tribune a conclusion has been reached after a trial of the issue lasting three months. Mr. Ford asked damages in the sum of $1,000,000. The jury gave him six cents. Mr. Ford's attorneys declare that this is a vindication which satisfies. The Tribune, while it would have preferred a flat verdict of no cause of action, agrees with Mr. Alfred Lucking, principal counsel for Mr. Ford, who in his closing appeal to the jury declared that "a small verdict is practically the same as a verdict for the defendant." As for vindication, The Tribune is confident of having been vindicated in the forum of public opinion, as it certainly has been in the forum of its own conscience, for having performed without fear or favor what it considered a public service and with its results it is content.

Thus both sides are, it would seem, satisfied with the outcome, a result seldom attained in lawsuits. The Tribune would express a word of appreciation, however, for a third party, the court—judge and jury—who have had to give a quarter of a year to the determination of this case, and have done so in a spirit of ungrudging earnestness and of exact justice which reflects the highest credit not only upon themselves but upon the American system of justice. It has involved hours, days, and months of unwearied attention and consideration. It has raised difficult questions of law and fact; in short, it has been a considerable

MR. WILSON WILL MEET THE SENATORS.

President Wilson will meet the senate committee on foreign relations Tuesday morning. He will be interviewed by the senators upon the details of the peace treaty and the league of nations covenant.

At the request of the senators, publicity will be given to the proceedings. Senator Lodge, who, for the committee, asked for the interview, made this a condition essential to it. Mr. Tumulty, replying for the president, characterized the request as "unprecedented," but agreeable to Mr. Wilson, who desires the people to know all about the peace.

Senator Lodge may not regret that he has broken a precedent. President Wilson's desire to acquaint the public with the facts concerning the treaties has been under a control so admirable as to constitute almost a precedent itself, even in diplomatic relations. It probably was inevitable that the senators did not think they would get publicity for the information unless that was made a stipulated condition in advance.

It is to be hoped that, having a guaranty of publicity, they also will get the information. Experience thus far has been that when there has been publicity there have been no facts, and when there have been facts there has been no publicity.

It is announced that the Republican members of the committee will go to the president in a virtually unanimous agreement upon a program of reservations to the covenant. If they can change the president's mind, it will be the country's extraordinary good fortune. If the president should have his way, the nation is out of luck.

THE RESERVATIONS SAFEGUARD THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

In unmistakable terms. We are told that it is preserved and recognized in the present draft. Then make the language so plain that it could not possibly be construed otherwise.

Article X is eliminated so far as the United States is concerned. The president says that this article does not bind the United States in agreement to preserve boundaries in Europe, Asia, and Africa, as they are established by the peace and by the subsequent plebiscites. If it does not, then it can be eliminated. If it does not mean what it says, the United States need not say it. If the United States does not mean to undertake to "preserve" the territorial integrity and political independence of all members of the league, it ought not to sign an agreement which says it will so undertake.

The stipulation in the article that the council of the league shall advise upon means of meeting the obligation is no protection if the council advises that the United States should preserve Armenia, as the peace council already is urging. The United States ought not to pledge itself to any such performance. We might be advised to get the Japanese out of Shantung if they do not restore Chinese sovereignty.

The reservations demand a plain statement protecting the sovereignty of the United States from such questions as the tariff and immigration. Does that need argument for Americans? They demand the unqualified right of withdrawal from the league. Does that need argument with Americans?

The fifth reservation stipulates that the American representative in any decision of the league shall not be binding upon this nation. The senate already has had experience which illuminates the wisdom of that declaration of policy. The senate already has had experience which illuminates the wisdom of that declaration of policy.

Decisions arrived at in Paris, treaties and covenants to bind this country in extraordinary alliances and to astonishing obligations were the decisions of men having no touch with the legislative body of the nation. The senate had nothing whatever to do with the decisions. It was uninformed as to what they were. It was eliminated. Autocracy was almost absolute when the decisions thus made were finally given the senate with the declaration that they were inviolable and could not be altered.

THE RICH MEN'S SHOES.

A number of correspondents indulge in scorn and ridicule because certain of our rich men elect to wear old shoes. We think they miss the point altogether. Assuming that these men (despite the income tax) could afford new shoes, it does not follow that their economy is merely a gesture. In any event, we of the proletariat should be thankful. Suppose every man who could afford to do so should buy, say, ten pairs of new shoes every month, what would be the effect? Why, the price would probably advance so rapidly that we should have to wear our old shoes also. There is a scarcity of leather; why blame the rich if they release more of it for the rest of us?

More broadly, economy at the present time should be regarded as a national necessity, and the economy of a rich man helps just as much as the scheme of things as that of the poor man. It is a persistent fallacy that extravagance is virtue because it "puts money into circulation."

Editorial of the Day

MILITARY TRAINING PROPAGANDA.

The house committee on military affairs will begin formal hearings in September to establish a military policy for the United States. Congress now has before it three bills to serve as the basis of our future policy, two identical bills presented by Senator Chamberlain and Representative Kahn, and the third, presented by Secretary Baker, embodying the war department's judgment of what a military policy should be.

Army officers estimate that 35 per cent of the American people want a system of universal military training. If this estimate is correct the people can get it only in one way. They must make their desire known. If the people of this country are under the impression that they cannot get a military system such as they desire because congress is indifferent to their wishes, let them recall their recent experience in army affairs. Military training propaganda should be revived and preached. But it should be preached on the lessons of the war and not on the old arguments of the pre-war era. There are so many men and women in this country now who know what real war is no progress can be made by talking or writing "old stuff." Military training propaganda must be based on the experience of the war.

Beauty in the uplands
Calls me to her side;
Beauty in the valleys
Calls me to a bride.
Whither shall I hasten?
Where a moment stay?
Everywhere is Beauty.
Follow where you may.
Here's a kiss for Joy,
Here's a kiss for Fancy;
Here, upon her starry brow,
A kiss for Necromancy!

Mists upon the mountain,
Shot with golden light—
Beauty there is pacing,
Lonely, on the height.
Thither will I hasten,
There with her abide—
Lo, within the valley
Beauty's at my side!
Here's a kiss for Joy,
Here's a kiss for Fancy;
Here, upon her starry brow,
A kiss for Necromancy!

"THORAU" observed, when he passed through Barnstable, that the jail was to let." More remarkable, the jail at Lowell, Mass., is empty, or was a week or so ago. Here is one serious condition that prohibition has created. Valuable property is falling into disuse and jailers, turnkeys, and other prison attendants are deprived of an occupation, to spend an enforced leisure in reading The Dial and listening to bolshievist orators. It is difficult to remodel a jail to serve another purpose, nor can we think of an offhand of a use to which it may be temporarily put.

WHAT SHOES TO WEAR.

"I should like to get these shoes off, but we do not know where to find them." This statement is heard not infrequently. Many people write to me: "Where can I get proper shoes for my children? The dealers in our town do not carry them and do not appear to be interested." On the other hand, I have heard of shoe dealers who said unkind things, and sometimes in unprintable terms, about the writers who were stirring up the people making them dissatisfied with shoes built on the ordinary lasts.

The American Posture league has been at work on the manufacturers of shoes for a few years. Now Dr. W. A. Evans is trying his hand, according to "The Modern Hospital." The Y. W. C. A. has a membership of 400,000. Its influence extends far beyond its membership.

But none of this avails unless the manufacturer makes and pushes the shoes advised. Recently the national board of the Y. W. C. A. held a conference with a group of manufacturers of shoes, really really dealers in the styles, but are shrewd enough about it to make the people think they are the final source of power.

The association will list all manufacturers and dealers making proper shoes, and send to each local Y. W. C. A. a list of manufacturers and dealers producing and selling the approved article. I wish the Parent-Teachers' associations would do the same thing.

Most of the feet ruined by bad shoes are well on the way before the possessors are 15 years of age. The toes are cramped and crooked and the foundation has been laid for bunions, corns, and broken arches.

Among the specifications laid down by the Y. W. C. A. are: A low shoe with a low heel and a flexible shank, allowing enough exercise for the muscles of the feet; a sole made of a material that will give and take with the foot; a straight inner border, and, finally, an attractive finish.

"The Modern Hospital" says we now laugh at the small, tightly laced waist which a few years ago greatly distressed women. Perhaps our people within five years will ridicule high heeled, pointed toe shoes. The war gave a great impetus to sensible shoes in accommodating several million of our people to the broad toe, low heeled, straight inner border army last. The great drawback to the shoe used in the field was its weight.

Recently I noticed that Indians wearing moccasins toe in, as all Indians are supposed to do, whereas Indians wearing heavy white men's shoes tend to just as much white men do. Walking with the toes turned out ruins the arches. Heavy shoes cause walking with toes turned out.

In buying shoes made on the union last do not get one with a very heavy sole. On the same western trip I observed another shoe fault that is far from common. A white girl, when acting as doorkeeper for the dining room, was

QUICK ACTION PROMISED.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—(To the Friend of the People.)—The first part of July I wrote you respecting the tenancy condition of the building in the building of which I am a tenant and my inability to have the landlord take action to have them fixed. After that time an improvement was made, but conditions have not as yet been remedied and the toilets are worse than ever. Will we have to wait until an epidemic of some sort starts before we can have relief?

A notice was issued on July 14th to the owner and tenant of this building to abate the nuisance, and as the notice has not yet been complied with they were notified to attend a public hearing in this department on Monday, Aug. 19, to show cause why they should not be sued.

COUNTY TO PAY TAXES ON HALF FULL VALUATION

Board of Review Decides to Enforce New State Law.

Cook county taxpayers will pay their 1919 bills on an assessed valuation of one-half a full valuation of their property instead of on a one-third assessed valuation as they have since 1909.

This was decided definitely yesterday by the board of review following a meeting with representatives of taxpayers and taxing bodies. The board is merely obeying the new state law, effective July 1. This law provides a revenue to take care of interest on the forthcoming bond issues by great local public works now under way or projected.

New Valuation Explained.

In explanation of the new order Chief Clerk Paul H. Wiedel of the board of assessors, said:

"The legislature, in raising the assessed valuation from one-third to the half, also has provided that the tax levying bodies shall lower the rates one-third—in other words, for example, the city of Chicago now is allowed $2.15 out of each $100 in taxes. In increasing the assessed valuation to one-half the legislature provided that the $2.15 be reduced to $1.43, or close to it. This same rule applies to the sanitary district and other taxing bodies within the county."

Many Officials Present.

In addition to the board of review, the county was represented at the meeting by County Clerk Switzer, President Reinberg of the county board, Harry R. Gibbons, county treasurer; Martin O'Brien, chief of the tax extension bureau; and M. F. Sullivan, for State's Attorney Hoynes. Leon Hornstein represented Mayor Thompson and Corporation Counsel Ettelson; Robert Redfield, the Committee of One Hundred; Douglas Sutherland, the Civic Federation of Chicago; Matthew Mills, Attorney General Bridges; Alfred Macos, a group of Hyde Park property owners; Colin C. H. Pyffe and John M. Glenn, the Illinois Manufacturers' association; B. M. Winston, board of Lincoln park commissioners; and Roy O. West, a member of the board of review, the South park commissioners. The sanitary district's interests were looked after by Attorney Walter E. Beebe. Charles H. Wicker was summoned by the Chicago Plan commission and Speaker J. E. Shanahan responded as a member of the legislature.

Lowden Board Present.

Added importance was given to the meeting by the presence of Gov. Lowden's newly appointed state tax commission—Frank P. Noleman, chairman, Centralia; Col. Joseph B. Sanborn, Chicago; and C. C. Craig, former associate justice of the Illinois Supreme court, Galesburg.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Hornstein attacked the assessors because of their failure to assess on a one-half valuation. He was reproved by Chairman Barrett, who had thrown out a hint against speechmaking and had asked that all addresses be confined to the issue in point.

Mr. Shanahan advised the reviewers that if they did not live up to the provisions of the legislation passed by the last session of the general assembly they would encounter shoals which would wash them up against the mandates of the Supreme court.

Attacks Tax Dodgers.

After referring to the technical duties in connection with tax extension, Mr. Switzer took a hot fling at the general run of tax dodgers who sought evasion of their just obligations toward the community, and referred to the entire horde as unworthy citizens, lacking in patriotism and civic pride.

Mr. Redfield insisted that there was no middle of the road course for the reviewers, and that the law must be followed and assessments made on the basis of one-half the real valuation. This, too, was the positive view of Commissioner Noleman.

Supporting the latter were his colleagues, Messrs. Sanborn and Craig.

Find Lord Mayor's Keys in U. S. Officer's Property

Boston, Mass., Aug. 15.—[Special.]—Two ancient keys to the lord mayor's mansion in London were recovered at Camp Devens from the baggage of an American army officer, were in the possession of the army intelligence department today.

The keys, each about ten inches in length, were found in the officer's bedding roll. The officer himself has not been at Camp Devens.

Army officials at the northeastern department decline to comment upon a report that the keys had been handed to Gen. Pershing on the occasion of his visit to London as a symbol of the granting of the freedom of the city and were missing when it came time for them to be returned to the lord mayor.

PLAN HUNGARIAN LEGION TO CLEAN UP EUROPE'S ROW

Zoltan D. Weissburg, 2716 Leland avenue, of the New Freedom Society of America, announced last night that that organization has decided to send a delegation to Washington to ask President Wilson's permission to form a Hungarian legion. The legion, he said, would be employed in restoring order in eastern Europe.

"There is only one way to settle that matter over there and that is to send a Hungarian legion over there to fight under the direction of the United States government," Weissburg said. "There are 500,000 Hungarians in the United States who are ready to join the legion. They know how to handle that question over there and can restore peace and order quicker than the allied forces."

Weissburg will be accompanied on his trip to Washington by Dr. Albert A. Barothy, E. Sellegi, Dr. A. Berat, and I. Isak.

FISH CLOTHING OF STUDENT HELD IN LAKE DEATH

Ithaca Authorities Believe Girl Was Strangled.

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Although grapplers tonight had failed to recover from Cayuga lake the body of 18 year old Hazel Crance, in connection with whose death Donald W. Fether of Los Angeles, a Cornell student, is facing a charge of murder, they did pull to the surface part of Fether's clothing, which, according to the police, was twisted tightly together and apparently tied in a knot.

Fall to Get Body.

The grappling party reported that late today they caught hold of a heavy object which they lifted some distance from the lake bottom before the load suddenly fell away. When the hooks reached the surface there was found attached to them the loop of cloth which Fether later identified as part of his garments.

The authorities, who are working on the theory that Fether strangled the girl while canoeing with her on the night of July 19, tonight expressed belief that the piece of clothing had been used for that purpose.

To Be Arraigned Today.

Fether, who claims that he had attempted to save his companion from drowning after their canoe capsized, said tonight that while he was struggling in the water he had thrown off the clothing recovered today.

Fether will be arraigned tomorrow on the murder charge. He also faces another charge—that of having illegally purchased whisky on the night of the Cayuga lake tragedy.

5 MORE BANKS INTERESTED IN BLUMSON CHASE

Evidence Found Mystic Miller Planned to Find New Victims.

The names of five other banks were drawn yesterday into the story of the whirlpool of vanished funds which Herman J. Blumson, pseudo philanthropist and embezzler, left in his wake when he fled from Chicago on July 21.

The evidence indicates that Blumson had laid plans to raid numerous financial institutions; the imminence of disclosure, however, forced his flight before his preparations were quite mature.

In the furnace of the Star Cereal and Milling company at 410-20 North Western avenue, of which Blumson was president, were found financial statements sent him in blank by the Fort Dearborn National bank on July 20.

William A. Tilden, the president, said last night that Blumson had requested credit and that a representative was to have visited him the day following his disappearance.

Check Books Found.

Among rubbish at the plant were uncovered, too, check books of the Foreman Bros. bank, bearing the milling company imprint.

Neal J. Rhannon, the trust officer, was at a loss to account for the check books, but declared that the missing financier had sought accommodations at the bank and had been refused.

Notifications of notes being past due also were found at the factory from the Independent State bank, the State Bank of Chicago, where the reason for a short time loan account, and from the Logan Square Trust and Savings bank.

MARKET
ADVANCES AS
LIQUIDATION ENDS

Overconfidence of Corn
Bears Leads to Undoing.

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.
Liquidation ran its course in the grain markets with the early decline, a good class of buyers stepped in and the help of shorts covering prices advanced and closed at around the top. Net gains of the day were 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ on corn, 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ on oats, 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ on rye, but barley was weak and 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ lower. All conditions had more to do with influencing values than did the news, the latter being bearish.

Corn in the southwestern markets closed 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ higher, the latter on September in Kansas City. Oats gained 1/4¢ to 1/2¢. Oats in Minneapolis were 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ and Winnipeg 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ higher.

Provisions dropped to the lowest of the season early, but advanced, and closed the higher on pork, 15¢ to 15¢ up on lard, and 8¢ to 8¢ higher on short ribs.

Bears Routed in Corn.
Overconfidence on the part of the bears led to their undoing in corn. There was an accumulation of overnight selling orders, and with news of a depression in the character of the crop reports, a wild stampede of the early buyers followed, with the bulk of 450,000 bushels from the inside figures. The market settled back toward the last, but closed within 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ of the top, with September 11.5¢, December 14.5¢, and May 14.4¢.

A sensational drop of 12¢ in hogs and marked weakness in foreign exchange were the main depressing influences early, but they were forgotten after prices started upward. Further rains were shown in parts of the corn belt, and there was a rather general improvement in the character of the crop reports.

Country offerings were fairly liberal despite the recent bad break in prices, but the September-cash spread had widened out of late, and the September forward more strength than the new crop deliveries at the last, after being the weakest early. Argentine exports were 3,544,000 bu., the largest of the season, and compared with 805,000 bu. last year. Sample values were off 20¢, with receipts 61 cars. Shipping sales 3,000 bu.

Barley Sentiment in Oats.
There was a strong bullish sentiment in oats, and while many of the local traders were disposed to sell on account of the weakness in corn, their offerings were readily absorbed by commission houses with eastern connections and leading local operators. The market strength in the cash situation was the dominating influence, and the market showed decided improvement. Lowest prices were made at the start and the highest at the close, after a range of 2 1/2¢. September finished at 74¢, December at 74¢, and May at 74¢.

Supporters were after cash grain, with some values 1/2¢ to 1/2¢ lower. Heavy oats asked to as compared with the September. Receipts 178 cars.

Barley Prices Lower.
Break in other grains resulted in a decline of 20¢ in barley, but there was no great pressure on the market, and sentiment remains bullish. At 50¢ a bushel, sample values at 11.5¢, with 140,000 bu. of changing hands at that figure; and Minneapolis sold 60,000 bu. of heavy for domestic shipment at 11¢ over September, the highest premiums on the crop. Spot sales here were at 11.25¢ to 14¢. Receipts, 13 cars.

Rye Broke Early, but Offerings were readily absorbed, and the finish was 15¢ to 15¢ higher. No. 3 sold at 14.5¢ to 14.5¢. Receipts, 13 cars.

Timothy unchanged. October sold late Thursday at 12.5¢, with 12.25¢ bid yesterday. No. 3 sold at 12.25¢ to 12.25¢. Per bushel of 45 lb. Clover seed unchanged; country lots, 10.00¢ per 100 lb. Toledo, 75¢ lower; October, 43.00¢ per bu. of 60 lb.

Provisions at New York.
Provision prices declined to the lowest of the season as hogs dropped $1.50 to $1.60, showing a 15¢ to 15¢ decline from the high of Wednesday, although many in the trade had it for the day. Liquidation spent its force, with a drop of 2 1/2¢ on lard at the extreme, with ribs off 30¢. Buying by shorts and packer brokers absorbed the offerings on the break, and reversed the market's action. At the close sales were around the best of the day, with fair gains. It is said that the market for futures has been well liquidated, and a better feeling prevailed at the last. Prices follow:
